DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 10-15 and 20-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 10, "said securing means includes a securing flange extending opposite said track flange substantially adjacent to said carriage component" contradicts the limitation of claim 1 where the securing means is addressed as "extending between said track base wall and said carriage component". Further, the disclosure does not show an embodiment having both the securing means in claim 1 and the securing means in claim 10. Note similar errors in claim 14. In the present condition, the examiner is unable to understand how the limitations of claims 10-14 are structurally incorporated into claim 1 and therefore unable to consider the relationship between the claims and the prior art.

In claim 15, it is not clear structurally what is defined as "pivotal connection allowing adjustment of the longitudinal position of a pivotal axis thereof along the track longitudinal axis". The claim is incomplete for failing to provide a structure to performing "adjustment". Note similar errors in claim 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by JP 10025942A. JP has a securing means (31) “between” the track base wall (10) and the carriage component (14).

5. Claims 20-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Ruston et al. (5,964,011).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1-5, and 15-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ruston et al. '011 in view of JP 10025942A.

'011 discloses the invention as claimed but for the securing means between the base and the slide. JP teaches a securing means between the base and the slide to lock the slide in place in order to keep the window at a desired angle. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the hinge of '011 with a securing means as taught by JP to lock the window at a desired opening angle.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 6-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
